New website and new logo!

It's with pleasure that I can announce our new website, which is live now (<http://esvnu.eu>). Have a look at it, it looks great. Due to a great effort of Rosanne Jepson this project finally could be realized. Thanks Rosanne.

Dear members, dear specialists, dear friends of the ESVNU,

I hope you started well into the New Year.

ESVNU had a very interesting congress in Mainz last September. The programme was well attended and the speakers did a great job. Herve Lefebvre (FR) spoke about "Pharma-codynamics and pharmacokinetics in renal and urinary tract diseases", Constança Pomba (PT) about "Susceptibility patterns of UTI bacteria across Europe" and Scott Weese (CA) about "Mechanisms and risks of urinary tract infection" and "Guidelines for the treatment of urinary tract infections". I thank the speakers for their contribution!

Very important for the congress are the abstracts. Please encourage residents and interns to submit their abstracts to ESVNU. We again had some very interesting abstracts and could hand out prizes for the best oral abstract and the best poster presentation.

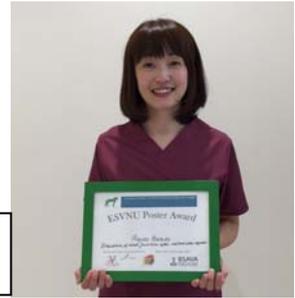

The prize for the best oral presentation from ESVNU went to Càtia Marques from the Faculty of Veterinary Medicine, University of Lisbon, Lisbon, Portugal, with her contribution: Emergence of multidrug-resistant bacteria causing urinary tract infections in companion animals: a 14-year retrospective study in Portugal (C. Marques, N. Couto, A. Belas, D. Saial, M. Delgado, C. Pomba).

Kayoko Harada from the Jasmine Veterinary Cardiovascular Medical Center, Yokohama, Kanagawa, Japan won the ESVNU price for the best poster sponsored by BSAVA. Her contribution was: The evaluation of renal function after mitral valve repair in dogs (K. Harada).

Poster award winner :
Kayoko Harada

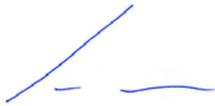

Do not forget the next ECVIM-CA congress it's the 25th Annual ECVIM-CA Congress a joint congress with ESVCP that will take place in the Centro Congressos de Lisboa in Lisbon from Thursday 10 till Saturday 12 September 2015. The topic of the ESVNU main programme will be "urinary tract neoplasms"

Finally I would like to thank my colleagues in the ESVNU board Astrid van Dongen, Rosanne Jepson and Gilad Segev for the work they have done during the last year.

See you in Lisbon

Sincerely yours,
